EMERGENCY CONTACTS

Please provide two emergency contacts, who will only be contacted if there is concern for your safety and well-being. This is due to the possible health risks listed in the student agreement related to participating in events where trauma is a focus. Your emergency contact information will be kept confidential by the Schlote Psychotherapy Professional Corporation and its representatives.

INCLUSION SCHOLARSHIPS

EQUUSOMA® is committed to anti-racist and anti-oppressive practice, and supports interspecies social justice as part of a trauma-informed perspective. As a result, EQUUSOMA® is issuing two full scholarships per Level 1 cohort, which cover the cost of tuition for all 3 modules (incidental fees, such as personal sessions, consultations, reading materials, etc. are not covered by the scholarship):

1. One for an eligible student who identifies as Black, Indigenous, or as another person of colour (BIPOC) who faces inequities as a result of racism/racialized trauma, and
2. One for an eligible student who is facing financial limitations due to other inequities (this could be another individual from the BIPOC community, or someone facing other experiences of marginalization)

To apply, please submit a short essay (500 to 1,500 words) outlining your background, your professional goals, and how you intend to apply EQUUSOMA® within your scope of practice. We want to ensure that we are being mindful of how we are applying the scholarships in light of recent highly publicized cases involving misidentification and misrepresentation of ancestry. Given our desire to be respectful of this sensitive issue, please provide us with any details or clarification that supports your application in your essay. The deadline to apply for a scholarship is 60 days before day 1 of Fundamentals I (December 22, 2022). Two full scholarship winners will be selected. Eligible participants who are not awarded a scholarship may be eligible for a reduced registration fee at the discretion of the Schlote Psychotherapy Professional Corporation.

PAIRS AND GROUP DISCOUNTS

If registering as a team of 2 people (offering services together in a co-facilitation model), each student obtains a 10% savings. If a group of 3-6 people from the same organization attends, each person obtains 20% off the total amount. Each tuition must be paid for separately, and we do not process payments for multiple registrants in a single transaction. Due to PayPal settings, please do not pay for multiple tuitions in one payment (such as paying for two people or to attend two modules in one transaction). Please pay for each tuition separately.

Online Training Details and Payment Options

Students must attend each online module live in real time, due to the experiential nature of the training. Although the lecture portions of the modules are recorded, the experiential components in breakout rooms on Zoom (group process and discussions, and practice rounds) are not possible to record. A student who has to miss a portion of a module due to extenuating circumstances can get caught up by watching the videos, but the experiential components will need to be made up after the fact at the student's own expense (by hiring a faculty member or training assistant to make up the time, at their hourly rate). The training and make up options may take place in a time zone that may be inconvenient. The training cannot be completed by simply watching the lecture videos. If there are unexpected interruptions to the modules beyond our control (e.g., internet, power, or Zoom service outages; last-minute emergencies), the dates of the training will need to be adjusted to complete the module. Students are expected to complete the entire module and its requirements even if there are unexpected interruptions such as these. Certificates of attendance are not issued until the experiential make up components are completed. Any make-up time must be completed prior to the next module. See the EQUUSOMA® Policy Manual (October 2022) for more details.

There may also be changes in training structure and completion requirements that occur as a result of the model evolving or due to adapting to extenuating circumstances, like global pandemics. Every effort will be made to support students through these adjustments to program completion. We appreciate everyone's patience and grace as we adjust to unforeseen realities.

Canadian students are subject to the provincial or territorial tax where they are located. For students located outside of Canada, no tax applies. The rates below include all bank and handling fees (taxes are applied separately).

Please check which module(s) you are registering and paying for at this time.

Modules must be completed in the order listed below. Students registering for Level 1 online in 2023 will not be eligible to attend Level 2 practical intensives (in person) until at least 2024.

Payment and Cancellation Policy

Payment is required to hold your spot in the training. It is possible to pay in two instalments of 50% each, provided that the entire registration fee and forms are received in full by the deadlines above. You are eligible for a 100% refund if cancelling more than 60 days before the first day of each module, and a 50% refund if cancelling between 31-59 days before the first day of each module. A $100 CAD administrative fee is applied to process refunds. Regretfully, no refunds are possible for cancellations that occur in the 30 days before the first day of the training. If you are unable to attend, the following options are available on compassionate grounds:

- Transfer credits: You may transfer your spot to someone else to take the training you registered for. You would be responsible for finding your replacement and obtaining full reimbursement from this person. Alternately, if you would like us to fill your spot on your behalf, we will refund you 80% of your registration fee (minus the $100 CAD admin fee) if we are successful.
- Banking credits: We can "bank" your registration fee and apply it toward the cost of a future training occurring within 2 years from day 1 of the module you paid to attend. If you do not register for and attend a module within this grace period, your registration fee is retained and you will need to re-register and pay again if you wish to attend a future module.

If for whatever reason the trainer needs to cancel the training, you will receive a full refund of your registration fee or deposit (or a partial refund if the module has started and must be cancelled due to extenuating circumstances). The Schlote Psychotherapy Professional Corporation is not liable or responsible for any fees or lost wages incurred as a result of having to reserve time to attend a module should it be cancelled. Your signature indicates you have read, understand and agree to abide by this policy.

Audiovisual and Media Waiver and Release

Level 1 Modules

Overview

Video Recordings

EQUUSOMA® Level 1 online modules (lecture portions only) are always recorded. The breakout experiential portions of the online modules cannot be recorded in Zoom. Level 1 recordings are available to students and training team members. Portions of recordings will be eventually included in our video library.

Video consent is required in order to take part in the Level 1 EQUUSOMA® online modules. We cannot guarantee that a particular student or their name will not show up in a recording in some way (either online or in person), or that a particular student can be edited out of video footage. Students who are not comfortable with the possibility of being recorded may opt out of taking the training at this time.

Level 1 students may reduce the amount of time they are visible in a recording by muting their video and changing their screen name (after we have seen their actual name for attendance purposes). However, to ensure attendance during the breakout rooms (which are not recorded), we require that students unmute their videos and are visible during these portions of the training.

Photography

The EQUUSOMA® team does not typically take screen shots during the Level 1 online modules, so photography from online modules is an unlikely occurrence. If this should occur (e.g., taking a gallery view photo), students have the option to mute their video so as to not be in the screen shot.

Social Media

The EQUUSOMA® team does not tag anyone on social media without prior consent, and the tagging we do usually only pertains to team members who have granted permission. We do not tag students, and leave that to each student to decide.

Please review and sign the waiver and release agreement on the next page.
